

Horse and Rider in the late Viking Age

Equestrian burial in perspective

Papers from a conference
Skanderborg 27-28th of June 2019

EDITED BY ANNE PEDERSEN
& MERETHE SCHIFTER BAGGE

Aarhus University Press

Horse and Rider in the late Viking Age

Equestrian burial in perspective

Papers from a conference
Skanderborg 27-28th of June 2019

EDITED BY ANNE PEDERSEN
& MERETHE SCHIFTER BAGGE

Horse and Rider in the late Viking Age
© The authors and Aarhus University Press 2021
Graphic design, typesetting and final drawing of illustrations:
Finn Petersen, art being
Cover illustration: Kirstine Hedensten
Paper: 130g Arctic Volume White
Printed by Narayana Press, Denmark
Printed in Denmark 2021
ISBN 978 87 7184 998 1

Aarhus University Press
Finlandsgade 29
DK-8200 Aarhus N
www.unipress.dk

International distributors:
oxbow.co.uk
isd.com

The conference and this publication were sponsored by:
The A.P. Møllerske Støttefond, The Augustinus Foundation,
The Agency for Culture and Palaces and Skanderborg Municipality.

Contents

Preface	9
----------------	---

Lene Høst-Madsen & Søren M. Sindbæk

PART I

Frejerslev II. Excavation and Analyses

The Equestrian Chamber Grave, Frejerslev II	15
--	----

Initial results from an elite Viking-Age burial
in East Jutland, Denmark

Merethe Schifter Bagge & Ejvind Hertz

Challenges and Methods in Field Conservation	35
---	----

Helle Strehle

The Micro-excavation and Conservation of Highly Degraded Objects from Frejerslev II	43
--	----

Marianne Schwartz

The Application of Image-based Modelling and Photogrammetry for the Documentation of Excavated Soil Blocks	55
---	----

Casper Skaaning Andersen

Wood, Seeds and Fruits, Phytoliths, Pollen and Non-pollen Palynomorphs of the Horse Burial of Frejerslev II	61
--	----

Welmoed A. Out, Renée Enevold, Peter H. Mikkelsen, Peter M. Jensen, Marta Portillo & Marianne Schwartz

Mapping the Invisible Traces	83
-------------------------------------	----

Soil geochemistry of the Frejerslev II burial floor

Vana Orfanou, Federica Sulas,

Thomas Ljungberg & Søren M. Kristiansen

Mapping the Invisible Traces	101
-------------------------------------	-----

Soil micromorphology at Frejerslev II

Federica Sulas, Vana Orfanou,

Thomas Ljungberg & Søren M. Kristiansen

"All that glitters is not gold" (or silver)	115
--	-----

The production of impressive fittings for the horse harness

Arne Jouttijärvi

PART II

Equestrian burial in Viking-Age Denmark

Equestrian Burial in Viking-Age Denmark

129

Regional significance and political context

Anne Pedersen

Burials with Horse Equipment in Schleswig

141

The cultural connection to the Fregerslev burial

Silke Eisenschmidt

‘A bit of a bit’

155

A contextual study of the functionality
of the horse bit from Fregerslev

Maria Nørgaard

Burials with Wagon Bodies

165

The female perspective

Silke Eisenschmidt

Equestrian Burial in 10th-century Denmark

179

Interpretations, religious meanings and some suggestions

Else Roesdahl

PART III

European perspectives

Horse Equipment in the Early Middle Ages	193
Evidence from Slovenia
Špela Karo
Equestrian Burial in Southern Norway and Western Sweden	211
Anne Pedersen
Horses and Burials in Late Iron-Age Central Sweden	223
The examples of Valsgärde and Birka
Charlotte Hedenstierna-Jonson & John Ljungkvist
Military Organization in the ‘Long 10th Century’	245
A view from Anglo-Saxon England
Gareth Williams
Horse Killing and Burial in Viking-Age Iceland	261
Rúnar Leifsson
Equestrian Burial in Viking-Age Scotland	271
James Graham-Campbell
Saxon Warriors, Carolingian and Ottonian Cavalry	281
A southern perspective on Danish equestrian graves
Thorsten Lemm
Huns, Avars and Hungarians	299
Mounted warriors from the Eurasian Steppes in Europe
Falko Daim
List of authors	312